Marine Corps Exams Begin This Afternoon

Applications Taken Already Indicate Full Quota Here

Beginning at one o'clock this afternoon preliminary physcial examinations will be given in the infirmary for applicants to the U. S. Marine Corps. Recruiting Officer Lieutenant G. R. Bundschu, U. S. M. C., will be present to interview applicants.

SHORT TIME LEFT

Applications for the Marine Corps officer training class will close about March 10, 1942, and the physical examinations and final enlistments of those accepted will be held on or about March 20, 1942.

The quota assigned to Saint Mary's College for this class is six seniors, four juniors and one sophomore. However, it is believed that every qualified senior and junior will be accepted.

LEADING STUDENTS SIGN

Among those on the campus who have filed applications for the Marine Corps training are Paul Reginato, Harold McLaughlin, Thomas Coll, George Arabian, Vernon Genesy, Edward Cerf, Robert Fouts, William Pyne, James Powers, Raymond Clemons, and James Lorigan.

This is the only opportunity to receive officers' training in the Marine Corps foreseen at the present time, according to Lieutenant Bundschu.

School Dean Addresses Educators

Among the prominent educators taking part in the first San Francisco meeting of the National Society for the Study of Education was Professor James L. Hagerty, Dean of the College of Arts and Letters of Saint Mary's College. The meeting was held in the auditorium of the Veterans' building last Saturday evening, February 21.

ADLER REPRESENTED

Professor Hagerty read a paper on "Aristotelianism," and represented Mortimer J. Adler at the meeting. Adler is Associate Professor of the Philosophy of Law at the University of Chicago, and asked that the paper be read on his behalf by Professor Hagerty.

The session held February 21 was "devoted to a panel discussion of the yearbook of the Society, in which prominent representatives of different schools of thought contributed to a comparative exposition of the philosophies of education embodied in pragmatism, idealism, realism, Aristotelianism, and Catholicism."

SPEAKERS

Among the speakers were: Willian C. Bagley, Chairman of the Society's board of directors; John S. Brubacher, associate professor of the Philosophy of Education at Yale university; William H. Kilpatrick, Columbia University; Frederick S. Breed, University of Chicago; Elmer H. Staffelbach, professor of education, San Jose State College; Wilfred Malon, S.J., and Professor Hagerty.

Also representing Saint Mary's were Brother Patrick, dean of men, and Brother Lucian of the Science Department.

Forest Jobs Open During Vacation

Students are wanted by the U.S. Forestry Service for vocational forestry training and for defense jobs in wooded areas of the country, according to an announcement made by U.S. Regional Forester, S. B. Shaw.

At Mount Shasta Vocational Forestry School during the summer term students will act as guards in actual work of fire protection in the state.

Applicants must be between 17 and 24 years of age, single, and in good physical condition. During the regular sessions the students receive $30 a month for sixty hours work. Twenty-two dollars is deducted for board.

The Vocational Forestry School was established at Mount Shasta so that youths may earn their living expenses while studying forestry and related vocations. The school is under the direction of NYA and Forest Service Officers. The program offers training leading to placement in lumbering work, and in the Federal, State, and County forestry organizations.

Witteman Mails Radio Debate Speech Outline

Last Wednesday Horway Witteman, '42, Saint Mary's certified representative in the National Intercollegiate Radio Prize Debate, mailed an affirmative and a negative brief to the contest chairman on the topic, "Does youth have a fair opportunity under our American system of competitive enterprise?".

The contest is sponsored by the Ameriacn Economic Foundation, and sixteen $50.00 prizes will be awarded for the eight best affairmative and eight best negative briefs. Prizes will be awarded to the winners by March 20th.

These briefs are preliminaries to the $1000 radio prize debate which will take place in the early part of March. Representatives from almost every university and college in the country will compete in the contest.

Day Student In Auto Accident

Bud Brown, sophomore, and Tony Alston, junior, sustained minor cuts and bruises this week when Brown's Packard '39 plunged off the Moraga highway, two miles west of Moraga, into a telephone pole.

Brown was passing a horse-drawn spray wagon on his way home from college Wednesday when a horse shied across his way, causing him to jam on his brakes and skid across the road into the pole.

The windshield and the hood of Brown's car were shattered and smashed. The automobile was tipped over near the pole, but was righted by day students who had been following Brown and saw the accident.

Day students who helped Brown to right his car were: Dan McNamera, Walter Linton, Francis Cabral, Paul Goodwin, James Brett, and Erwin Andre.

Future Of Yearbook Is Now Brighter Than Ever

"The future of the Gael is brighter than ever before," said Milo Mackin, yearbook editor. "We are not troubled by finances, and if the students continue to return their proofs as they have been doing, I believe everything will be all right."

The book, whose motif will be Spanish Renaissance Architecture, will have a dark red cover. The main theme will be centered around the College buildings which are very good examples of the Spanish Renaissance.

Within the next two weeks all campus activities will be covered, and the book will definitely come out around the last week in April. George Collopy, senior art student, is drawing all of the football cartoons.

"The members of the Gael staff," said Mackin, "wish to acknowledge the gracious response of the students' parents to our sponsorship plan for the support of the annual." Sponsorships in the annual are procurable for $2.50.

Through necessity there will be fewer pages than previously planned, according to the editor. Three hundred books will be printed according to present plans.

Talent Scout Fails To Show Up On Campus

Hollywood Envoy Misses Appointment For Various Reasons

Take off your grease paint, you gorgeous Gaels! Dishevel your hair! The talent scout just ain't comin' for a while, that's all! The Collegian just did it to increase circulation!

These were the various shouts heard around the campus early this week when it was announced that Miss Sophie Rosenstein, the talent scout from the Warner Brothers' studio of Hollywood had postponed her visit to the Gael campus.

MONDAY A HOLIDAY

Brother Francis, speech teacher, received a letter stating reasons for the delay.

Miss Rosenstein, who is the dramatic coach and test director of the Warner Brothers' Studio, had intended to make her appearance at Saint Mary's last Monday, February 22. However, due to an unavoidable delay in her schedule and to the fact that last Monday's holiday limited the number of students who would be on the campus ,the talent scout has announced that she will not be able to stop at Saint Mary's College until a date late in March.

The stop at Saint Mary's was originally intended to supply some talent for the American moving pictures. Any potential leading men, who are comparatively photogenic, should not give up hopes of ever receiving an audition, Brother Francis believes, for the possibility of studio officials and talent scouts coming to the campus at the later date in March are particularly good.

DESIRE TO ATTEND PLAYS

Miss Rosenstein and Mr. Solly Piano, the student talent scout, expressed their desire to attend some of the productions which are now being planned by the Saint Mary's dramatic society. This new arrangement would be beneficial to all parties concerned.

Ambitious students would be able to show their talents and ability with a stage role. The talent scout could then draw his opinions of the individual, concerning his appearance and his ability to handle a script, and his public speaking ability.

So don't be discouraged, you future Gables. You've still got a chance. Keep practicing that script and let your hair grow long.

Executive Council Really Stirs Things Up For Ten Minutes

In an electrically charged atmosphere the Eexecutive Council yesterday gave a show of energy the like of which has not been seen this semester.

This bustling display of energy lasted all of eleven minutes, but the intensity of the furious debates so completely tired the enterprising legislators that they soon were gasping for breath, and as a consequence called a halt to the proceedings.

ATTENDANCE PROBLEM

Ten of the busy 11 minute meeting were spent in a discussion of how to compel, trick, or pursuade the absent members, of which there were many yesterday, to favor the meeting with their attendance.

During the other minute that the august body was in session they were addressed by George Farnham, Collegian editor, who named the following Collegian writers for awards: Milton Figeroid, John Klein, James Lorrigan, Garrett Fox, Richard Colbert, Milo Mackin, Daniel McNamera, Thomas Lyons, Richard Saveri, Stanley Rischard, Mario Sanguinetti, Joseph Marini, Gerard Fitzpatrick, Mario Conti, and William Benttencourt.

RADIO COSTS

Also while in session the student legislators voted the sum of three dollars to Cliff Hoff for expenses connected with the radio program.

Among those attending were Gerard Fitzpatrick, ASSMC vice president, Harry McLaughlin, student body secretary, Max Ullom and Joseph Picci, freshmen representatives; John Ferrick, sophomore representative; Daniel McNamera, junior representative, and William Keating and William Pyne, senior representatives.

'Simon Legree' Fitzpatrick Forced to Wake Nine Lethargic Councillers From Noonday Siestas Once A Week To Spend Money

By POLITICUS

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of three articles designed to bring the attention of the student body to bear upon the sad, but remediable, condition which exists in the Executive Council of the ASSMC. The next installment will appear next week and the third, and last in the series, will endeavor to suggest a remedy.)

Once every week Gerry Fitzpatrick plays Simon Legree—and runs a three-ring circus after the act.

He has to! His job calls for direction of the biggest group of independent clowns on the campus. Week after week they go through the same routine, never giving one good professional performance on an appearance.

Fitzpatrick is chairman of the Executive Council, that group of pseudo-logicians, whose main stock-in-trade is arguing beside the point.

Logic? They don't know what the word means. They thrive on pragmatism and asininity. They beg the question and know all the answers without studying the problems.

'COMPULSORY GAEL'

Last semester when the issue of compulsory Gael arose, those councilors wasted more than three weeks in debating the method of collecting the money, when this difficulty should have been the province of the investigating committee appointed to see the president of the College to iron out details of the proposal.

Weekly, Fitzpatrick is forced to beg, threaten, plead with members to attend the council's regular Wednesday meeting. It is necessary to have nine members present to make a quorum, but in order to get these nine, Fitzpatrick has to spend at least twenty minutes in scouring the campus. When he catches up with a member, the request is "Please come to the meeting!" If the "please" isn't there the august councilor deems it an insult and continues his hand in the pedro game. When Fitzpatrick finally gets a quorum, it is almost time for the next class and business is tabled until the following week when he goes into his "Simon Legree" act once more.

Why must the chairman of the council be under such duress every week? Partially because the members usually are not informed in advance of the meetings—though it was only last semester that they fixed every Wednesday "once and for all" as the day of their meeting.

MAIN REASON

But this is the main reason: The council's meeting room is a chicken yard and every individual is a rooster looking out for his own interests. There is a mess of crowing and strutting, but nothing of great importance is accomplished unless it is done by a very small group of conscientious students. This limited group carries the burden of the College on its back, because no one else is interested in the job.

Whenever the Junior, the Senior, the Block SM representatives, the Varsity Debate Manager, or the Gael Editor feel that they have nothing to ask of the Ex Council on any particular week, they do not attend the meeting. These, and others (most of the councilors are guilty of this selfish attitude at one time or another), fail to realize that their prime regard is for the interests of the student body as a whole. It is self-evident that the interests of their constituents are subservient and secondary to that of the general welfare.

NEXT WEEK

Next week this writer will endeavor to illustrate for you how it would be possible, under the present set-up, for a small group of seniors and juniors to control successfully the student body, including its inances, without opposition from the lower division or any other group, and how a stupid, short-sighted amendment to the constitution last year made this possible.

Speakers Visit Prep Schools To Demonstrate

The public relations office combined with the speech department last week to present two programs to high schools in the East Bay area. On Friday, two debating teams, composed of Francis Starrs, Donald Wood, John Schaeffer and Daniel McNamara, presented a demonstration debate before the combined student bodies of St. Joseph's High School and Notre Dame Academy in Alameda.

On the same day members of the cast of "Saint Mary's Speaks" presented a half hour radio show before the students of Acalanes High School in Lafayette, featured by a portrayal of the career of Louis Guisto, Saint Mary's graduate and former major league baseball star, as well as the dramatization of events in the life of Lt. William Hanlay, a Saint Mary's man, who was killed in the last yar.

Those taking part were Robert Fouts, August Zipse, and Clifford Hoff, all regular members of the "Saint Mary's Speaks" cast, and Tom Williams and Vincent Mancini. They were introduced by Gordon La Velle, student body president of Acalanes High School.

KC's Will Be Active In Lenten Work

Newly elected officers of the Saint Mary's College council of the Knights of Columbus were installed last night by District Deputy Raymond Gericke and District Warden Gerald Brusher in a meeting in De La Salle lounge.

Officers installed were Paul Reginato, Grand Knight, Donald Fye, deputy grand knight, Bernard Wills, recording secretary, and Carter Callan, chancellor. A delegation from the Junipero Serra assembly of the fourth degree acted as escort for the district deputy.

POST-LENTEN AFFAIRS

Post Lenten social affairs were discussed at the meeting, among them a dinner-dance to be held in May, and a possible picnic. The college council also planned to cooperate with the Oakland councils in persuading local merchants to observe Good Friday. Last year most merchants in Walnut Creek and Lafayette fololwed the local council's suggestion by closing their places of business between the hours of noon and three p.m. on Good Friday.

COUNCIL'S APPRECIATION

In closing the meeting, Paul Reginato expressed the College council's appreciation for the cooperation of the Oakland and Berkeley members, and announced that Saint Mary's Knights would visit those councils in the near future.

Navy Offers Grads Chance As Instructors

College graduates with degrees in physical education and some coaching experience are now eligible for positions as physical training instructors in the United States Navy.

Alumni members are called to attention of the fact that applications for the physical instructor position are now being taken at the office of Lieutenant Commander Maurice N. Aroff on the fifth floor of the Federal Office Building in San Francisco.

Men between the ages of 30 and 40 years will be given first consideration, but those outside these age limits will be accepted if it is found that their qualifications are above average.

Any Saint Mary's graduate wishing to take advantage of this offer must apply here for transcript and other college records at least one week before the date on which he wishes these papers.

18th Weekly Broadcast On Air Sunday

Sunday, March 1, will see the 18th broadcast of the "Intercollegiate forum" over radio station KFRC. The topic, "How many young Americans promote the 'good neighbor' policy?", will be discussed by participants from San Francisco State, College of Holy Names, Mills College, and the University of Santa Clara. Moderator of this week's forum will be Dr. Baxter M. Greeting of San Francisco State College.

To date, 73 college students, representing 11 colleges will have participated in these forums. Saint Mary's College, University of California, Stanford University, University of San Francisco, and Mills College have made seven appearances each. San Francisco College for Women and Holy Names College have made six appearances each. College of Pacific has been represented five times, and the University of Washington once.

Last Sunday, February 22, under the moderation of Dr. W. W. Bird of Washington University, the topic, "How many American colleges prepare their students for a post-war world?", was discussed

Christian Bros. Provincial Lauds College, Students

With next year commencing the Diamond Jubilee of the coming of the Christian Brothers to California, Brother Jasper, provincial head of the religious organization, who is on the campus this week for his annual visit, told a Collegian reporter that the future, both for the order and for Saint Mary's College, "is bright."

"Be brave, be hopeful," the venerable Brother said, "and the future will not be dark."

Brother Jasper has been examining the halls, the buildings, the classrooms and the mess hall, and is ready to report that everything is satisfactory.

GOOD REPORTS

"I have received splendid reports from the faculty about the students," he said, "and I am always happy to receive more."

Brother Jasper entered Saint Mary's College in 1883 and entered the Brothers' novitiate at Martinez in '87. He knew the seven Brothers who comprised the faculty in the early years of the College's history. These were the original faculty of Saint Mary's who made the month-long trip from the East coast across the Isthmus of Panama by mule and up to San Francisco Bay by steamboat.

Debates Continue; Sophs Speak At USF

Debating activities continued this week with a contest between University of San Francisco and Saint Mary's College, with Saint Mary's Sophomores Richard Saveri and Thomas Williams travelling to San Francisco for the affair.

Last Monday evening August Zipse and John Schaeffer participated in a round-table discussion with two University of Washington co-eds on the topic "How may radio broadcasting best serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity?" The co-eds visited Saint Mary's as part of a debate tour undertaken annually by the University of Washington women's debate team.

Recorder's Box

American Institutions class meets today at 12:30 in D204. Dr. Le Fevre will be in charge.

Students who need transcripts for military or other purposes are reminded again that they must make formal application for them at least one week before they are needed. The recorder's office asks your cooperation in this matter due to the unprecedented requests for these documents.

The recorder's office would also like to call the attention of the student body to the schedule of mid-term examinations which appears on page two of this week's Collegian. The period for mid-term examinations will extend from March 2 to 13 and classes will continue as usual during this time.

Moraga Quarterly Will Be Issued Again In Second Week Of March, Says Editor Of Literary Magazine

Professor Hagerty Now Has Proofs For Spring Issue Of Publication; Two Student Brothers, One Senior Student, Contribute

The Moraga Quarterly, campus literary magazine, will appear in the second week of March, according to Professor L. Hagerty, editor. Professor Hagerty, who is dean of the Arts and Letters Shool, is now in possession of the proofs of several articles to be included in the Spring issue.

SERIOUS NOTE

The magazine, which is published twice each semester, is devoted to the more serious type of writing; each edition contains contributions from prominent educators, Saint Mary's faculty members, and the students themselves.

Some of the articles to appear in the next Moraga Quarterly are the following: "Sword of the Spirit," by Horway Witteman, senior honor student and debater; "Vyacheslav Ivanoff," a study of the great Russian philosopher by Dr. Cyril Bryner; "Democracy—Prodigal Son," by Brother U. Cassian; "Thoughts at Plato's Banquet," by Brother S. James; "Religion on Trial," by Professor Hagerty.

Brother V. Leo will also be among the contributors, with a set of verse selections.

MARCH APPEARANCE

According to Professor Hagerty, the next issue will be available to the public around the 13th of March, or perhaps a few days earlier. However, he pointed out that he has not yet been able to get all the necessary galley proofs back from the printers for correction, and so cannot definitely tell the exact date for the new edition.

Zipse Gets Lead Role In Passion Play

Actors Will Practice Twice A Week; Date Set Tentatively

Final casting has been completed for "The Upper Room," a passion play by Robert Hugh Benson, which is to be presented by the Saint Mary's Dramatics Society. A tentative date of April 1,1942 in the afternoon and evening has been set for the presentation with the Oakland Women's City Club as the probable site.

ZIPSE IS STAR

August Zipse will take the important role of Achaz, the keeper of the upper room; Miss Betty Ann Souza and Miss Beatrice Miller, both from the College of the Holy Names will take the feminine leads as Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of Christ.

The role of Samuel, originally assigned to James Lindland, has both Joseph Picchi and Bertram Callen, freshman students. Lindland, a veteran of last year's productions, has been forced to give up the prize role because of pressing time.

Horway Witteman has taken the role of Peter; Gerald Ring the role of Judas; Donald Woods the role of Joseph of Armithea; the Doctor is taken by Thomas Williams; John by Robert Fouts, and Longinus by Vincent Mancini.

INTENSIVE PRACTICE

Intensive practices twice a week have been scheduled by Directors John Williams and Yale Meyers. Considerable movement, music and sound effects must be coordinated with lines. The music and sound effects will be provided by transcriptions; an innovation to be tested by the directors.

Mr. Williams announces that there is a considerable amount of work to be done in regards to props, advertisement and costuming; students interested in this phase of the drama are urged to contact him as soon as possible.

Brother Jerome Lectures On War-Time Taxes

Brother Jerome, head of the Economics department, lecturing yesterday to the Political Science 10 class, on "Taxation," stressed the importance of taxes in war time.

Believing that an economist is not really competent to determine what the tax policy of a country should be, since this problem also enters the field of politics, and even involves a question of ethics, Brother Jerome confined his lecture to considering the effects of some particular tax on the economy of a country as a whole, the different classes of people in the country, and the production of the country. Also included in the address was a discussion of taxation in wartime, centering about whether a nation at war should secure its revenue by borrowing or taxing.

The fourth in a series of thirteen, this lecture will be followed next Thursday by an address on "Revolutions in Thought and Action" by Professor James L. Hagerty, head of the Philosophy department.

600-Page Keith Book At Printer's

Brother Cornelius' book, "Keith, Old Master of California," will be on sale sometime in April. The actual manuscript, which was ten years in preparation, finally has been finished, and now, only the printing of the book remains to be done. Proceeds from the 600-page work will go jointly to the College and to the Keith estate.

CONGRATULATIONS

Brother Cornelius has received many congratulatory letters on the book's completion. Already, it has been put into book reviews such as G. P. Putnam's "New Books for Spring 1942."

The subject of the work is William Keith, proclaimed by many leading critics to be one the world's greatest landscape artists. The Late Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor of the Mount Rushmore Memorial, said of him, "He is a beacon light of true art. He steers clear of erratic conservatism, to give us an art that is truly suggestive of nature, strong, and full of high and noble inspiration."

FINEST COLLECTION

Saint Mary's College has perhaps the finest Keith collection in the world. It is fitting that his work should be here in the west that he loved so dearly. It is fitting also, that "Keith, Old Master of California," should be as successful as was Keith himself, Brother Cornelius said.

Two More Gaels Get Their Wings

To the Army and the Navy go two more Saint Mary's graduates, who are eager to serve their country. Scott L. Regan will soon complete his training at the Army Air Corp Advanced Flying School at Stockton, after which he will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Air Corp Reserve.

To the Navy goes Ensign Robert Nels Swanson, graduate of the U. S. Naval Air Station of Corpus Christi, Texas. Both were prominent members of the student body.

Student Interest Will Determine Establishment Of Summer Courses

Plans for the special summer session, to be conducted for the benefit of Saint Mary's College students, are well under way, Thomas J. Twomey, assistant recorder, announced yesterday.

Twomey revealed that the summer session will be given in order that students who will soon be called into the armed forces may be enabled to complete their college career ahead of schedule.

STUDENT INTEREST

"The whole plan depends on student interest," Twomey announced.

"In order that the administration of the college may be able to determine the number and type of courses to be offered during the session, interested students are asked to sign up with the recorder as soon as possible," he added.

Twomey stressed the fact that the type of courses to be offered is entirely contingent on the amount of interest displayed by students who are affected.

LENGTH OF TERM

The length of the session has not yet been determined and the number of college credits which may be granted under the plan is also tentative. These details will be ironed out in a future meeting of the academic council.

While lacking official confirmation, it is almost certain that the faculty of the college will conduct the summer session.

Scatena Blasts Ex Council's Spending

ASSMC Funds Low Says Student Treasurer; Criticizes Handling Of '41 Yearbook's Outstanding Debts

Doubts Whether Treasury Will Last Until End Of Semester; Says Council's Spending Must Be Drastically Curtailed To Avert Tragedy

Ilo Scatena, treasurer of the Associated Students, warned yesterday that unless the Executive Council curtails its current spending spree, there will not be any money left in the treasury.

"The student body is now going through a financial crisis. Funds are low," said Scatena, "and unless the Executive Council realizes that we have a budget which must be adhered to if we are to spend our money in a sane manner, we will not have any before long." "We have arrived at a point where we must be very careful how we spend our finances," he added.

The treasury, according to Scatena, was knocked for a loop when the Executive Council a few weeks ago authorized payment of all existing Gael debts. "Payment of these outstanding debts is all very fine," Scatena commented, "but when there is no money coming into the treasury and practically all of it goes out, the condition becomes extremely critical. This is especially disastrous when we have to pay out money for awards for debating, radio, the Collegian and other activities on the campus," he added.

RADIO MONEY

This week the Executive Council voted to give the radio program three dollars for expenses incurred in transportation and other items necessary for the continued production of the program.

"I don't know if the treasury, in the present condition, will last until the end of the semester," Scatena revealed. "If we are to continue giving three dollars here and two dollars there, it won't be more than a month before we will have to devise ways and means of repleting the treasury," he added.

Scatena was also very indignant about the outstanding Gael debts of last year. It was understood that they were to have been collected by the 1941 Gael staff from their advertisers. This was brought up in the Ex Council late last semester, at which time Horway Witteman, editor of the yearbook, promised to investigate the reasons for delayed payments by the advertisers and promised also to do some collecting.

1941 'GAEL' DEBTS

"A great deal of revenue can be gained by collection of these debts," Scatena said. "I suspect either lethargy or laziness on the part of those responsible for collection of those ad payments. If they would get off the dime and get some money in, the treasury would not be so hard-pressed," he finished.

There is a shortage of telephone instruments in Egypt and new subscribers are being refused service, according to the Department of Commerce.

Beck Receives Interesting Mail This Week

That's What He Says; Read Below For The Elucidating Details

Letters from Trinity College, Washington, D. C., the Federation of Catholic Young People's Clubs of San Francisco, and Mills College, Oakland, each of particular interest to Saint Mary's students, were received this week by Jack Beck, president of the student body.

Trinity College has been selected to direct the National Commission on International Relations which has been set up by the National Federation of Catholic College Students. This Federation is sponsored by the Catholic Bishops, and is an organization which proposes to unite the campus activities of all Catholic Colleges. The chief aim of the Federation is to gather the ideas and ideals of Catholic students concerning peace aims and post-war reconstruction.

FROM FCYPC OF S.F.

From the Federation of Catholic Young People's Clubs of San Francisco comes word that this organization is sponsoring a regional Catholic Youth Congress to be held at the San Francisco College for Women on Sunday afternoon, March 22, 1942.

The theme of the Congress will be "Youth and America's Crisis." The participants will include two Saint Mary's College graduates.—Joseph Alioto of Sts. Peter and Paul's Parish, San Francisco, and Mr. John Henning of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists. Principal speaker of the conference will be Rev. James T. O'Dowd, Ph.D., Superintendent of Parochial Schools.

STUDENTS SHOULD ATTEND

The Federation has made an earnest request that all colleges in the Archdiocese of San Francisco will participate by requesting the members of their student bodies to attend.

From Mills College, Oakland, it is learned that a regional conference of the National Student Federation of America is being organized by the University of California, Stanford, and Mills, and is to be held March 6, 7, and 8, at Mills. Miss Ann Colyer, president of the student body of Mills, and chairman of the regional conference expresses the hope that this conference will be considered by the executive board of Saint Mary's and that this College send a large delegation.

Large Celestite Deposit Found In West Texas

SWEETWATER, Tex. (U.P.)—Mineral-rich West Texas is offering another raw material for national defense—celestite.

Celestite, also known as strontium, is used for flares. Formerly used in fireworks, the mineral burns with a brilliant red flame.

A survey made by the University of Texas reveals that a deposit of celestite runs east and west through Nolan county. The lode is from six inches to one foot thick and has been pronounced suitable for commercial exploitation.

JACK BECK

Denver has 350,000 people.

Denver has the famous "mile high" climate.

Denver has many beautiful girls, undoubtedly produced by this same "mile high" climate.

Denver is the home of the Denver Post.

Denver is the capital of Colorado, and Colorado is a state in the union. (C.f. Rand-McNally's "Map of the United States," latest edition preferably).

Denver is the home of Regis university, and Denver, fortunately or unfortunately, depending upon whether you are an optimist or a pessimist, produced Jack Francis Beck, our present ASSMC prexy.

Denver likes Beck, and Beck likes Denver; that, you might have gathered from reading the foregoing evidence, is belaboring the obvious.

NO TRUTH

There is absolutely no truth to the popular legend that Beck cannot afford a full toupee; the water around here is unnaturally corrosive, that's all.

Beck stands 5 feet 11½ inches tall. (He would like you to believe that he's six feet, but he isn't; if he'd cut down on his gas consumption, he might possibly make it, though.) Not heavy, he has a gaunt, wan look, as if he hadn't eaten for a week. His appearance is immaculate; he usually wears a sack, which he calls a "sport coat," and a pair of pants, reaching from his chest to the ground and attached to his shoulders by means of a pair of green-checked suspenders. He wears a necktie with a shirt because his toupee expenses allow him artificial hair only above the neck. Beck also wears shoes on more public occasions, and to dances.

ONCE IN STIR

One year before Saint Mary's received its first "dead end kid," Beck did a stretch in the Marquette reformatory,—er, a, that is, Marquette university. There he enrolled in the school of Boozeness Administration, and ever since he has had trouble. Transferring to Saint Mary's from the Jesuit institution, Beck found things radically different. He had to study.

In his sophomore year here, which was actually his first year at Moraga, he contented himself with becoming president of the Glee Club, which has since warbled itself out of existence, and (fond memory!) exerted and exalted himself to the honor roll. Once a junior, Beck worked fast—elections were just around the corner before he knew it, and before he knew it he had been successfully news editor of the Collegian, an editorial writer on the same rag, secretary of the ASSMC, vice-president of the junior class, junior representative to the Catholic Intercollegiate Committee, co-chairman of the Jr. Prom, an intramural athlete, president of the Sanctuary Society (he still is), a member of the Executive Council and numerous other clubs. (Editor's Note: This list is exhausting, rather than exhaustive.)

Beck, who was the first Saint Mary's man to solo in the CAA's flight program, used this advantage to his advantage. In the presidential campaign of 1941, he campaigned on election day (101 feet away from the polls) by throwing pamphlets and balloons labelled "Vote for Beck" from the cabin of a Piper-Cub aeroplane.

NO SPEAKER

Many things have happened to the Pied Piper of Denver. There was the time, for example, when he first discovered that he was no speaker. (Oh, horrible day!) He was talking at a Gael-Bear rally on the U.C. campus, when 15,000 Cal students, in their best Brooklyn voices, disagreed with his powers of oratory. While here, Beck has learned many of the nicer parlor games, including "Two dice, high dice."

His plans for the future do not include matrimony, "which is the farthest thing from my mind," but they do include a job with the United States Naval Department's Supply Corps, but possibly he will go into the hotel business after the war.

THREE-YEAR STUDY

He has made a three-year study of the feminine pulchritude of this region and is ready to report that "Denver has many beautiful girls." What about the Mills College coeds?

"Denver has many beautiful girls." What about the Holy Names College coeds?

"Denver has many beautiful girls." What about the Lone Mountain coeds?

"Denver has many beautiful girls." What about the Dominican College coeds?

"Denver has many beautful girls." What about the University of California coeds?

"Denver has many beautiful girls."

Italians To Hold Meet Off Campus

The Italian Clubs convention in the bay area was to be held on the campus of Saint Mary's College this year will probably be held elsewhere because of other activities occupying favorable dates, Ilo Scatena, head of the Italian group on the campus, said today.

The meeting consisting of members from the University of Santa Clara, University of San Francisco, Saint Mary's College, the Salesian Boys' Club, and other Italian clubs in San Francisco, usually meet on one of the three Catholic men's college campuses of the bay region each year. Saint Mary's was to be the location of the convention this year, but the site may be moved to San Francisco according to Scatena.

The purpose of the meeting is to bring together students of Italian descent to discuss topics on Italian culture. Plans have not been made tentative, Scatena stated, but it is almost certain the meeting will have to take place on a location other than the College campus.

Steps have been taken to contact Mr. Fuscoe of the Salesian Boys' Club before making any final plans. Speakers for this year's meeting were as yet not known for sure but subjects for discussion should prove interesting, he added.

The convention is a one day affair spent in lectures and discussions and participation in religious activities in the chapel. It is a fairly new activity, being organized within the last six years. The meeting last year was held at the University of Santa Clara.

FEBRUARY MEETING

Anticipating a large meeting on last Thursday evening, the regulars were very disappointed with the meager turnout; about 25 members attended. With a membership of over 500, there is absolutely no reason for such a poor turnout. Even some of our most active attendants were conspicuous by their absence. As we have stressed on countless meeting nights in the past, if the majority of the members are not satisfied with the location of the meeting hall, or the night meetings are held, we have no way of knowing unless you let us know what your preference is. We certainly want to please the majority, so please let us hear from our membership in regard to this.

Regrets—Joe McElligott says that stress of his official business makes it necessary to resign his chairmanship of the Baseball committee. Charley Pohley will bat for him. Lots of luck in this new post, Charley, and sorry to see you out, Joe.

Dan Murphy making an interesting talk regarding his report on the by-law committee. Things that must be planned for now—the baseball game between the Saint Mary's Phoenix and Santa Clara, to be sponsored by the Saint Mary's Club on March 15th. Also the Big Brother game to be held at the Campus around April 26th. Not much time to get busy on these events. Another club member defending our democracy, CPO Lee Kehoe, very active with our forces in the war zone.

MARRIAGE YEARS ARE 120

LAWRENCE, Mass. (U.P.)— Mr. and Mrs. Louis Matthes, 86 and 91, respectively, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Matthes, 78 and 75, respectively, recently held a joint celebration of 120 years of matrimonial happiness. Louis has been married 63 years and his brother Oscar 57 years.

ALUMNI NOTES + +

THE RECORDER SAYS

Those members of the Alumni Association contemplating enlisting in branches of the armed service where college transcripts are needed, should apply for them as soon as possible. According to the Saint Mary's College Recorder, so many requests for transcripts have been forthcoming, that requests filed now cannot possibly be filled for two weeks.

SAN FRANCISCO ALUMNI UNIT

According to Chairman Garry Vivaldi, the next meeting of the San Francisco Unit of the Saint Mary's Alumni Association will be held in the very near future. The date of the meeting will appear in this column.

Incidentally, the Unit, under the direction of Garry Vivaldi and Ed McSweeney, did its part toward making Eddie Erdelatz's boxing show the success it was. A large block of tickets were disposed of.

ALUMNI HERE AND THERE

When the Tolan alien-investigating congressional committee arrived in San Francisco last week, it marked the homecoming of Attorney Leonard Thomas, '30. Legal advisor to the committee, Thomas, former student body president, honor student and varsity baseball player, returned to the bay region for the first time in over ten years. After graduating from Saint Mary's, "Len" took his law degree at Georgetown University in Washington, D. C., and practiced in Washington and New York City. . . . Leo Ten Eyck, '32, and Clement Collins ex-'33, are State highway policemen assigned to duty on the Golden Gate Bridge. . . . Harry Gardiner, '31, and Joseph Corsi, '28, are underwriters for the State Compensation Insurance Fund in San Francisco. . . . Harry Kenney, '35, is an accountant with McKesson & Robbins. . . . Del Courtney ex-'32, and his band will be at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco in April. Courtney has definitely arrived as a "name" maestro. . . . Jack Sutcliffe, '36, is filling Los Angeles and environs with talk concerning his newly-arrived son, John Hoxie Sutcliffe. The newly-born son fits right in with Jack's line of work — he being associated with the Personal Products Corporation . . . Paul Mulgrew spent his honeymoon in the Southland. He boasted to all and sundry that he and Mrs. Mulgrew will be at home at 25 ST. MARY'S street, Pleasanton. . . .

Chief speaker at a Holy Name breakfast in North Hollywood two weeks ago was Bob McAndrews. The President of the sodality is Vic Valla, '32, now a thriving real estate man. . . . Jack Murphy, '33, a member of the San Francisco Police Department for several years, is now an acting inspector in the Bureau of Missing Persons. . . . Edmund McCarthy, '30, formerly a safety engineer for the State of California, is now employed in a similar occupation at the Benicia Arsenal. . . . John Aragni, '34, former basketball "great" and now a San Francisco city employee, was recently appointed a member of the Pacific Athletic Association committee, and is presently planning festivities in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the hoop sport. . . . Arthur D'Arco, '34, assistant cashier of the American Can Company, is now in New York preparing to manage a war production plant to be operated by that Company. . . . A former editor of the Collegian, Eli Welch, '37, is now a claims examiner for the State Compensation Fund. . . .

Elvin Svendsen, an engineer of the class of 1930 occupies a key position with Columbia Steel. . . . Tom Foudy, '36, the publicity man par excellence, has forsaken Hollywood for a defense post at Vallejo. . . . Louis Figeac, '31, a federal employee, is now located in San Francisco. . . . Tom Feeney, ex-student body president and basketball captain, has returned to his law studies at the University of San Francisco. . . . Prominent among the leaders in the San Francisco City Golf Tournament at Harding Park last weekend was Pete Markvoich, director of the Alumni Association, who turned in a score of 73 — one over par. Also up among them was "Slim" Drier, Bill Meade, and Ed McSweeney. . . . Owen Foy, ex '43, is now nursemaid to some of Uncle Sam's horses; he's a horse artilleryman at Phoenix, Alazona. . . . Tom (Paul) Kane, also ex '43, is training at the San Diego Naval station for the air corps.

NO PREP TOURNAMENT THIS YEAR . . .

The Catholic High School Basketball Tournament, yearly held for the parochial prepsters of California in the Saint Mary's College gymnasium, will not be held this year, according to Brother Eugene of Saint Mary's high school, last season's tournament director.

This event has produced annually some of the best basketball play in the Bay Area. Schools from Oakland, Berkeley, San Francisco, Vallejo, Stockton, Sacramento, Los Angeles, and various other locales, have participated, and the results have always been highly satisfactory. Last year, Saint Ignatius of San Francisco won from Sacred Heart of the same city to annex the title and the accompanying cup. It would seem that with their victory, the CHS Tourney passed out of existence.

Difficulty in getting a sponsor for the league was given by Brother Eugene as the main reason for the abandonment of the affair. The arrangement of the schedule also caused a controversy since the East Bay circuit closes some two weeks before the West Bay league. In general, extenuating circumstances may be said to have caused the cancellation of the tournament. No matter what the reason, a fine athletic event will have been done away with, and it is our sincere hope that it may be resumed next year.

Off hand, we can think of Ray Driscoll, Paul Goodwin, Jack Foley, Bill McPartland, John Feerick, Roy Cortopassi, and Al Weber, present students, who participated in the tourneys of years past. Another exciting athletic event passes from the local scene.

HOFFMAN, COMPAGNO FEATURE GREAT CARD . . .

All credit to Eddie Erdelatz for a fine boxing program last Friday night... Up until the next to last bout, the evening's entertainment was good, though not extraordinary. Dickson had managed to slip a punch with more enthusiasm than skill through Erlwein's guard, dropping him for a TKO. In our opinion, that match could have been continued, though no one knows just how bad Erlwein was hurt. Clemons was the picture of futility trying to uncover an ostrich-like Verutti. Nobody blamed him, though, what could you do with an egg like Jelly-Jack?

The Ferem-Gottschalk match lived up to expectations, Ferem out-slugging Larrupin' Lou for the decision, while Bellani and Ed Russell put on a great fight. Frosh Russell surprised a lot of people with his skill and punch, and big Pete, though winning the nod, didn't have too easy a time of it. Bill Irish put upon valiant fight against John Scanlon, one of Saint Mary's truly versatile students. Irish was walloped terrifically in the solar plexus in the early stages, but weathered the storm and was still in there punching when the fight ended with Scanlon the victor.

The semi-final, however, was the fight of the night. The unanimous consensus of those in attendance was that that one bout alone was worth the price of admittance. Al Ward of the Oakland Tribune, a spectator, credited the Ken Hoffman-Tony Compagno match as one of the best he had ever seen, professional fights included.

It is doubtful whether or not the judges or the referee know yet who won the most rounds . Each slip differed from the other, it was that close a match; and, though in our opinion it should have been called a draw, Hoffman was probably awarded the miniature boxing gloves, symbolic of victory, because of his strong left hand, and his point-making boxing skill. Compagno forced the fight, but Hoffman was a little too clever.

Anyway you look at it, that fight, preceding the Henson-Coll fiasco, was the best of the night, and either man could hold his own against any collegiate opposition. Take it from there, Eddie.

WHO CALLED THEM A "RALLY" COMMITTEE? . . .

Maybe we gave the Rally Committee too much credit last week, in regards to having enough spirit to hold a baseball rally. As yet, not one single thing has been done by President Bob Klatt, or any member of his so-called organization, either to accept that idea, or to substitute one of their own. Some such idea is needed, immediately.

We're afraid that we're through cajoling and coaxing the Rally Committee to do something. Outside of one or two members, the rest should turn in their sweaters and apply for a pension. They are, without a doubt, the most defunct, lack-a-daisical bunch of dead-heads with the confines of Moraga Valley.

If the Rally Committee does not get to work within the next week on some progressive, spirited idea for a rally or some similar program, we shall personally go before the Ex Council and demand that the "Rally" Committee be officially disbanded, that they be dishonorably discharged from the roles of student organizations, and that the awards given to them by the student body of Saint Mary's College be taken back. Even this would not sufficiently express the contempt of the entire student body for this group, masquerading as a committee to foster rallies and the like. They certainly are no credit to the school that tolerates them.

MEMOS ON TENNIS AND BASKETBALL . . .

Marty Kordick has commenced another year of intercollegiate tennis, and it is sincerely hoped that the response to his turnout invitation will be as enthusiastic as that for boxing. . . Saint Mary's basketball team has wound up probably the greatest season in the history of Saint Mary's. Not enough credit can be given them and their coach, "Dutch" Conlan.

We, the students, offer our respects and congratulations to Coach Conlan, Bill Burke, Captain Frank Boyle, Ed Loomis, Gus Mota, Ed Cerf, Vern Genesy, Tony Winn, Angelo Maestri, John Feerick and Frank Shannon, the 1942 basketball team—one of the best in the West. . . Bill Burke, incidentally, should be in line for All-Coast honors. If he doesn't receive them, then Northern California cage officials are blinder than the referees they hired this season to handle local contests. . . .

The regular CIBA season starts tomorrow in Berkeley for Saint Mary's 3-time champs. Join the gang, and Mrs. Josephs, at Clint's Camp tomorrow afternoon!

Intramural Play Will Resume This Week

The race for the intramural basketball title was temporarily detourned last week due to the occupancy of the gym by General George Arabian and his frosh cages, practicing for their PAA play.

The class contests will be resumed, however, claimed Carter Callan, Intramural manager, this week, and the schedule to have been in effect this week will play a repeat performance.

SCHEDULE

That schedule had the following games: Monday: Junior Reds, frosh Reds at 3; soph Blue, senior Blues at 4; Tuesday: senior Reds, junior Reds, at 3; junior Blues, frosh Days at 4; Wednesday: soph Days, frosh Reds at 3; soph Blues, frosh Blues at 4; Thursday: senior Reds, soph Reds at 3; senior Blues, frosh Blues at 4.

The soph Reds still lead their league, while the soph Blues are on top in their particular circuit. The soph Days and the junior Blues are runners-up in their respective leagues.

Leading the scoring in the intramural league are Tony Compago and Frank Callen with 26 apiece, closely followed by Tom Coll with 25, Jack Connolly with 21, and Bill Finn with 20.

Gael Cagers Finish Great Season Winning 20 of 25 Games; Bronco Match Off

Clean Sweep Of California Series, One Point Loss To Stanford, Split Santa Clara Tilts Feature Sensational Year

Although the 50-33 defeat suffered to USF Tuesday gave the Dons the annual basketball series, the current edition of the Saint Mary's Varsity rang down the curtain on the most successful season in modern basketball history on the Gael campus.

In all, the team registered 20 wins in 25 games, losing twice to USF, once to Stanford, Santa Clara, and the San Francisco Athletic Club.

Being the first team to defeat California three times in one season, and losing by only one point to mighty Stanford, are among the achievements giving credence to Saint Mary's claim as the second best team in the state.

3RD GAME CANCELLED

For the first time in many years a defeat was tacked on Santa Clara, though Santa Clara came back to take the second game. The third game of the series, which was originally scheduled for this Friday nite, had to be cancelled, because of the PAA championships being held in Kezar Stadium.

The fight and hustle of the young team won the plaudits of the crowd. Against Stanford, the small Saint Mary's team looked hopelessly outclassed against the 6'4" Indians. At half-time Stanford went off the court with a 28-13 lead. Fighting back the Gaels gave Stanford the scare of the year, losing by one point.

CAL SWEEP

Three times California felt the Gael sting, 38-34, 39-35, 39-35, each time Saint Mary's coming back to win. Against Santa Clara, the Gaels had to overcome an 18-8 half time disadvantage to win. The second half spurts of the speedy, small, hustling Gaels earned them the title of the "Comeback Kids."

The College of Pacific, San Jose State, Olympic Club, California Aggies and Nevada series were swept two straight, while single victories were registered over YMI, Seigel's Clothiers, Athens Club, Chapel of the Oaks and Owens-Illinois.

20 wins in 25 games, a record on the coast topped only by Stanford, a record to be proud of.

Frosh Take PAA Opener

Arabian's Yearlings, Athens In 2nd Round

By ROY CORTOPASSI

General George Arabian and his frosh have done it again! His yearling basketball squad won its first encounter in the PAA Tournament Monday night, defeating the Stockton Amblers by the overwhelming score of 60 to 23.

Led by their rangy center Ray Driscoll, former all-city pivot man from Sacred Heart high school of San Francisco, the Gaelets had it easy throughout the entire game. Driscoll was high in the scoring with 15 points. He was closely followed by forward Jack Cunha who drove home 14 markers. Lou Franz, dependable guard, came through with 10 counters to aid the first year team.

FOLLOW VARSITY

The General's basketeers have successfully followed in the footsteps of last year's Frosh five. It was that aggregation (this year's varsity) which defeated these same Stockton Amblers and went on only to lose in the quarter-finals by a 44 to 40 score in an overtime period with the highly touted San Francisco State varsity. Arabian's five are picking up right where the Gaelets left off in the last PAA tourney.

The frosh played the Athens Club last night in the tourney's second round, with Arabian predicting a victory.

Win or lose or forfeit in this PAA tournament, it must be said that General George has done a fine job.

Tennis Players Sign Up For Team

With 11 men turning out in Tuesday's signup, tennis coach Marty Kordick announced this week that Saint Mary's would again enter the Northern California Tennis Association.

Besides Saint Mary's the loop is composed of Santa Clara, USF, San Jose State, and San Francisco State. Each team will play a double round-robin, giving it eight league matches. One match with each team will be at home, and the other on the opponent's courts.

Semi-Final Bout Steals Fight Show

The first Gael Boxing Card of the year, promoted by Eddie Erdelatz in the gymnasium last Friday night, before an enthusiastic group of fight fans, was highlighted by the Ken Hoffman-Tony Compagno semi-final bout.

Although Hofiman was declared winner on a three round decision, the contest was so close that the battle could easily have been called a draw. Both boxers had had previous experience and in their bout they manifested a ring finesse which was totally lacking in the majority of the other fights on the card.

2 K.O.'S IN BOUTS

Of the 13 matches, in which most of the fighters lacked essential conditioning, two were determined by knock-outs and the rest by decisions.

Jack Erlwein was put away in the first round of the second bout when Bob Dickson caught him flush on the side of the jaw with an unexpected right cross. Two bouts later, George Glogoski, rallied to win by a T.K.O. over Russ Kemarsky.

FEREM WINS

In one of the better battles of the night, Joe Ferem outpointed Lou Gottschalk. Frank Carillo and Castagnetto put on a slugfest with Carillo garnering the decision. Just before intermission Peter Bellani won over Ed Russell in a battle of heavyweights.

Red Cameron received the nod over Buddy Brown in the eighth fight. The Glen Weir-George Gibson affair immediately followed, and Fricke's boy Weir was announced the winner. Farron Brumfield won over Boy Day and Red Scanlon defeated Bill Irish. The final bout of the evening between Tom Coll and Owen Henson was won by Coll.

Gael Record; Mota Burke Lead Scoring

Saint Mary's Varsity basketball team has hit a new high for the 1942 season, scoring 20 wins in 25 games played. The varsity, in addition, has scored some 872 points, most of them by Gus Mota, top scorer, and Bill Burke.

Phoenix Campaign For 4th Straight CIBA Title Opens

CLINT MEET EARL—Clint Evans, cantankerous coach of California's baseball varsity, will face Earl Sheely, genial genius of the Phoenix squad, from across Edward's Field tomorrow at 2:30, when the annual rivalry between the two coaches and teams, will reopen.

California Nine Defends Half Interest In '41 Crown Tomorrow Afternoon At Edwards Diamond

Baseball Season In Full Swing Again; Bears, Sheelymen Tied Last Year; Mori To Pitch Against Highly-Touted Cal Ace

By TOM DOWD

Hey, Skinnay! Baseball season's here!

That's right, it's horsehide time again, and it gets under way officially tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, when Saint Mary's Phoenix opens a campaign for its fourth straight CIBA flag, against California at Edwards Field in Berkeley.

TIED LAST YEAR

Saint Mary's and Cal tied for the pennant last year, each with 11 wins and four losses. Bear fans are licking their chops in anticipation of an undisputed championship this year, in the light of their six practice games. Clint Evans' boys have won all six, and have manufactured 61 runs, an average of over ten runs a game.

Three veteran infielders are returning for the Bears, Ken Norris, first baseman, Alva McBroom, second sacker, and Jack Albright, shortstop. Don Weir, a newcomer, is at third. Evans has two veteran outfielders in Hal Cates and Ray Amling, along with a 205 pound soph, Doug Donnan, who has hit long and often in practice games. Stan Sharp, Carl Hoberg's understudy last year, will handle the catching.

BEAR PITCHER

Coach Earl Sheely's Phoenix have an all soph infield of Marv Kranda at first, Ray Henningson at second, a pair which cavorted on the national champion Omaha Legion team, Al Stringer, younger brother of the Chicago Cubs' Lou, the Gael shortstop, and Elmer Roelling, from Antioch High, at third. Val Quintana, John Hooper, Roy Giusti, Mel Sattui, and Bill Kennerley give Earl Sheely a quintet of the only first stringers from last year.

Charlie Mori, bespectacled right hander who limited the Bears to six hits last year, only to have his mates make five errors in one inning and blow the game, will start for the Moragans tomorrow.

BATTING ORDERS

California—Jack Albright, ss; Hal Cates, lf; Doug Donnan, cf; Ray Amling, rf; Ken Norris, 1b; Al McBroom, 2b; Stan Sharp, c; Don Weir, 3b; R. Renouvara, p.

Phoenix In 2nd Place

Winter Loop Won By Flashy Petersen's

After winning the second half championship of the Alameda Winter League, the Saint Mary's Phoenix lost the championship playoff game to Petersen's Liquors at Washington Park last Sunday, 10 to 3.

With Charlie Mori on the mound, the Phoenix got off to an early lead, but was unable to hold it. Petersen's scored once in the fourth, and drove Mori to cover with a three run barrage in the fifth inning. John Fitzgerald pitched the remainder of the game.

PROS STAR

Mike Koll, former UC star, pitched for Petersen's. He personally led a 16-hit batting attack with three timely singles. Ferris Fain, Bill Leonard, Fran Kelleher and other pro stars aided in the Gael defeat. However, tough breaks in playing fly balls off the outfield fence cost the Phoenix several.

Marv Kranda was the leading hitter for Saint Mary's, garnering three hits in four attempts.

Frosh Nine Meets Commerce Sat.

Seeking revenge for the defeat last week at the hands of Galileo, the Saint Mary's frosh nine fought to a 3 to 3 tie with Sacred Heart Hi of San Francisco last Monday, February 23.

George McLean, making his first appearance on the mound this season, pitched a good game, but his own wild throw in the eighth inning let in the two tying runs.

Tomorrow at 10:00 a.m. the frosh will meet Commerce Hi, on the Saint Mary's diamond. Starting lineups will be Valliquette, 1b; Quinn, 2b; Howerten, ss; Scanlon, 3b; Ullom, lf; Germaine, cf; Goetchuis, rf; Fitzgerald, c; and Wright or Russell, p.

This Sunday at Seals' Stadium in San Francisco, starting at 12:30 p.m., two outstanding baseball attractions will be played for the benefit of the Red Cross. The Saint Mary's Phoenix has been honored by being selected as the collegiate representative for these diamond classics.

ALL-STAR SEMI-PROS

In the first game, the Phoenix will meet a hand-picked all-star nine of San Francisco semi-pro players. As the Phoenix has met and defeated many of the top ranking semi-pro clubs of the bay area, the game appears to be about a tossup and promises to be a great battle.

The second attraction brings together an all-star team of Coast, American, and National league players from San Francisco, and a like team of players from Oakland and the East bay. These two teams are being headed by Bobby Coltrin, San Francisco Seal scout, and Johnny Vergez, Oakland manager, respectively.

ABSOLUTELY CHARITABLE

These games are being played entirely for the benefit of the Red Cross, and 100 per cent of the gate receipts will go to them. All equipment is being donated, and players, umpires, ushers, venders, and gatekeepers all are donating their time, so that no expenses need be deducted.

Walter Mails, publicity director of the Seals, and for those games, urges all Saint Mary's students to attend, in order to contribute to a cause which may soon aid them, as well as seeing their Phoenix and a great array of diamond stars in action. "In these times," said the "Great One," "no student knows when he may need the aid of the Red Cross, and he will be thankful for that aid which it may give him."

LEAGUE ATTRACTIONS

Some of the major and minor league stars who will be playing are Frankie Kelleher, Bud Sheely, Lefty McPartland, former members of the Phoenix, Ferris Fain, Hugh Luby, Sam Gibson, Ed Stutz, Al Piechota, Stan Andrews, Bill Rigny, Bill Roamondi, Johnny Vergez, Dominic DiMaggio, Italo Chelini, Ralph Buxton, Ed Kearse, Ernie Lombardi, Lou Vezilich, and Walter Judnich.

Heading the list of semi-pro all-stars will be Tob Pagee, a southpaw curve ball artist, who pitched for Sacred Heart against Saint Mary's frosh last season.

Varsity Plays Host

Saint Mary's tossers will meet Stanford in their second CIBA contest next Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock on Agnon Field.

With Mori facing Cal, and Fitzgerald probably pitching the Red Cross game, it will be up to first sacker Kranda to handle the pitching. This shift will put Mel Sattui on first, and Roy Giusti in left field.

BEST O' THE WEEK

(NOTE: This is the last in the current series of basketball Bests.)

Throughout the basketball season, Bill Burke, Ed Loomis, Gus Mota, Ed Cerf and others have been tagged the BEST. The time is ripe to give credit to Angelo Maestri, to Tony Winn, to Frank Shannon, to Vern Genesy, and to John Feerick, for the splendid jobs they have done, in making this year's cage program such a tremendous success.

At the same time, one man deserves a separate and distinct vote of thanks. The only senior on the club, he has lent his experience, his stability, to the Gaels during their current campaigns. To him must go the honor of being the veteran of the team, and his playing ability has aided no end the fine showing of this year's varsity. This final BEST O' THE WEEK, therefore, is—

By JIM LORIGAN

Prof LeFevre had it to say that there is a great possibility of there being a Catholic League again with a great big play-off at the end of annum. . . . Sounds good, but. . . . Also that there will be no third game 'tween Gael and Bronco on acc't we got no place to play it. . . . Sad isn't it? . . . T'was revealing last Tues. nite, that Mr. Forrest Twogood is just about tops in casaba coaches. . . . How he can make a clicking outfit with such a misfit assortment of talent (?) beats us. . . .

Basketball's Post Mortem:

S'funny that the team should start and stop their season with a loss, and yet have one of the best teams in the school's history, from the record standpoint anyhoo. . . . By far the best, on the floor, off the floor, and up in the air, was wee B. BURKE. . . . Wheee!!!!

We see that John Sanborne is still sporting that mortician's drape job around. . . . Guess it wasn't the attraction in San Jose, but possibly the new charmer at the switchboard. . . . Oh, you devil, John. . . . Red-Hot Ray Clemons is so anxious to rap a Jap that he was begging the interviewing Marine officer to let him go even before he graduates. . . . Eddie Cerf is on a strict lemon and orange diet to get the acid back in his G. . . .

Ringside, Erdelatz Square Garden:

Biggest joke of the eve was Canvasback Coll and his dying swan act. . . . In cahoots with Hush-Hush Henson, the Richmond Rapper, Coll flapped all over the ring, finally managing to get the big nod. . . . Falling out of the ring, though, 'tweren't zactly in the script. . . .

"Fightem" Fouts, the rooter-tooter, was scared silly he wouldn't get the barker-role at the fight card, and when he did get it, he flubbed it. . . . Reports have it that one fight was miscast because of "Fightem's" corny double-talk over the mike. . . . Some of the Block SM gang having a tough time explaining to Erdelatz what happened to the ducats they were 'sposed to sell for the card. . . .

Wouldn't be be so far amiss to guess that Ken Hoffman and Tony Compagno might put on a rematch of their classic tussle in the gym, before another audience in the near future. . . . If nobody signs that pair SOON, sumpin's haywire. . . .

Via the grape-vine: Bossman Bill Feneran is guilty of jumpin' to hasty conclusions by his own admission. . . . Willum informs us that the two senior gridders who supposedly didna get their block sweaters, will receive them after all. . . .

Spring Practice: Strader May Not Call Gridders Until Mid-Term Exams Through

War or no war, Head Coach "Red" Strader plans to call out the remnants of last year's hard-luck football team within two or three weeks to commence that annual period of grunt and groan known as Spring Practice. The exact date, commented Strader, depends on mid-term examinations. Since it would be too much of a hardship to open practice during this time, the date will probably be postponed, until afterwards.

Confident that as long as the rest of the Coast football powers have not proclaimed abandonment of the sport, it will continue, Strader will put his charges through the usual paces in anticipation of an improved season in the Fall. The possibility exists, however, that there may be at least one radical change in the grid set-up come next campaign time.

FROSH MAY PLAY

If the plan under examination at the present is continued, and the Pacific Coast Conference also adopts it, freshmen, that is, incoming high school graduates, will be eligible to compete on the varsity."

"Red" Strader

Be that as it may, Strader will count for now on what is actually at hand. Of last year's eleven, only Brad Sheafe, George Zubey, George Arabian, Jim McPartland, Owen Henson, Paul Reginato, and Mel Carpenter were seniors, but the rub is that their substitutes have tied themselves to the services and to work, leaving a squad of some 25 or 30 players. Al Alegria and Bob Day, frosh stars, are the latest to join up.

Curry, Coll, Brumfield and Keeter will return at the ends; Jim Powers, Bill McPartland, Lex Daoust, and Al Ratto will be back at tackles; and Ray Clemons, and Pete Bellani, will be left at guards. Tony Bilotti and Dick Harkins return at center, though Ratto may be moved back there again.

BACKS RETURN

In the backfield, Johnny Podesto, Compagno, Ahlstrom, Odisio, Callen, Giusti, Gottschalk, and Lemucci, will be the only returning veterans.

The coming sophomores, this year's frosh, are expected to play an important role in the '42 football picture.

Night classes, now in progress, will continue so that the students will have an opportunity to prepare for exams, and with office ratification, spring practice will then open.

Give Them Free Lunch!

The most unorganized organization on the campus—you guess it, the Executive Council of the ASSMC. They labor, week by week, under a great number of difficulties.

They have difficulty in getting elected to their posts, in some cases actually fighting for the honor of representing their classes.

They have difficulties in determining where a bull session stops and a real logical argument begins.

They have difficulties in determining what is parliamentary law.

They have difficulties in getting together every week; some of them have already forgotton that the regular meeting date is Wednesday. And herein lies the cause for this editorial.

There was an excellent proposal brought up at the last meeting, ATENDED BY ONLY NINE OF THE ENTIRE VOTING MEMBERSHIP OF 18! "What shall we do about this difficulty?" asked the chairman of the Ex Council.

"Give them free lunch every Wednesday," came a voice-from-the-back-of-the-room.

Why not? The Ex Council members certainly work hard enough to deserve this little courtesy of the student body. Every Wednesday at least a quorum of the council meets and decides weighty problems, such as would astound a congress of the United States. They sweat, they slave, they work their fingers to the bones! And what do we give them? Nothing.

The councillers have to eat, consequently they are not always able to make the meeting, which takes place at 12:30 once a week. Why not give each of them a free lunch at the expense of the student body?

We would be in favor of giving them free coffee, too, but that would be pampering them too much. Besides they have enough money to get their own coffee.

Why? Why? Why?

Why? Why? Why?
